Spring 2019 CETL Adjunct Learning Event

When: Saturday, January 12, 2019 - 8:00am until 12:00pm

Where: SPC Clearwater Campus, 2465 Drew St. Clearwater FL 33765 (ES Building)

Agenda

8:00 – 8:30am: Light breakfast, sign-in, & meet and greet in ES 104

8:30 – 8:50am: Welcome message from Heather Roberson, CETL

8:50 – 9:50am: General Session: Academic Integrity – Interactive discussion with expert faculty to learn more about SPC's updated Academic Integrity Policies and Procedures

10:00 – 10:50am: Workshop Session I

Topic	Facilitator	Room #	Description
Course Fit: Gradebook & Faculty Tools/SParC	I Tech Team	ES 220	Faculty are invited to drop in to our CourseFit session, where our Instructional Design & Development Team will be available for one-on-one help preparing your course for the new semester, practicing with specific MyCourses tools, and troubleshooting issues you have run into.
Feedback to Enhance Student Engagement	Jen Haber & Nancy Watkins	ES 123	Are you looking for new ways to provide engaging feedback that your students will use to improve and help them achieve success in your course? This session will share successful pedagogical strategies that support valuable feedback that is focused on student learning.
Teaching with Empathy	Christian Moriarty	ES 127	The need for empathy in our society is as vital as ever. One thing we as educators often miss is the effect daily complications weigh on our students' minds. Using a combination of quantitative-based research and applied classroom experience, this session will delve into the demographics, background, and the full picture of the students we all serve, strategies for communicating effectively with all stakeholders, and how applied empathy can lead to academic and economic success.
Fake News – How to Identify as Instructors? How to Teach Students to Identify?	Gene Lloyd	ES 125	This session will examine strategies, technologies, and self-efficacy of faculty and college students understanding trusted resources, degrees of accuracy, and the importance of context.

Spring 2019 CETL Adjunct Learning Event

11:00 – 11:50am: Workshop Session II

Title	Facilitator	Room #	Description
Course Fit: Gradebook & Faculty Tools/SParC	I Tech Team	ES 220	Faculty are invited to drop in to our CourseFit session, where our Instructional Design & Development Team will be available for one-on-one help preparing your course for the new semester, practicing with specific MyCourses tools, and troubleshooting issues you have run into.
Feedback to Enhance Student Engagement	Jen Haber & Nancy Watkins	ES 123	Are you looking for new ways to provide engaging feedback that your students will use to improve and help them achieve success in your course? This session will share successful pedagogical strategies that support valuable feedback that is focused on student learning.
Teaching with Empathy	Christian Moriarty	ES 127	The need for empathy in our society is as vital as ever. One thing we as educators often miss is the effect daily complications weigh on our students' minds. Using a combination of quantitative-based research and applied classroom experience, this session will delve into the demographics, background, and the full picture of the students we all serve, strategies for communicating effectively with all stakeholders, and how applied empathy can lead to academic and economic success.
Fake News – How to Identify as Instructors? How to Teach Students to Identify?	Gene Lloyd	ES 125	This session will examine strategies, technologies, and self-efficacy of faculty and college students understanding trusted resources, degrees of accuracy, and the importance of context.